On October 9, we launched a new and improved customer experience, including an all-new My Account. During this transition, you may experience an impact to your billing. You may have received two bills in October – one for your September usage and a later bill reflecting partial usage from October. Or you may have received one bill in October for your September usage and receive one bill in November that includes usage from October and partial usage in November.

By December, you will be on a regular approximately 30-day billing cycle; however, the delivery date of your bill may vary from what you are currently used to. Take note of the Billing Period and Service Days information located on your new bill during this transition.
